District of Columbia Public Library FY2016

Agency | District of Columbia Public Library

Mission | The District of Columbia Public Library (DCPL) supports children, teens and adults with services and materials that promote reading, success in school, lifelong learning and personal growth.

Summary of Services | The District of Columbia Public Library (DCPL) is a dynamic source of information, programs, books and other library materials and services that improve the quality of life for District residents of all ages that, when combined with expert staff, helps build a thriving city. The Library provides environments that invite reading, community conversation, creative inspiration and exploration, lectures, films, computer access and use, workforce and economic development, story times for children and much more. DC Public Library includes a central library and 25 neighborhood libraries and also provides services in non-traditional settings outside of the library buildings. DCPL enriches and nourishes the lives and minds of all DC residents, provides them with the services and tools needed to transform lives, and builds and supports community throughout the District of Columbia.

<td>Increase access to the Internet by piloting mobile wifi checkouts. In an effort to increase education and employment opportunities for residents in Wards 7 and 8, DCPL will pilot a checkout system of mobile wifi devices at two library locations East of the River. This will allow residents to access the Internet from home to apply for jobs, take online classes and complete homework when it’s most convenient for Ward 7 and 8 residents.</td>

<td>Expand STAR (Sing, Talk and Read) by implementing the Books from Birth Program. DCPL will launch the new Books from Birth program to provide every District child under the age of five with a free book every month. Enrollment in the program will be phased with the goal of registering about 5,000 children by the end of FY16. In addition to the monthly delivery of books, families will participate in parent workshops and receive STAR tips.</td>

<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Libraries are not their buildings:</td>
<td>3.0</td>
<td>Increase DCPL’s online engagement with teens. Actively engage teens with the library through enhanced online learning and engagement. This will include a revitalized teen section of dclibrary.org with regular contributions from teens, experimentation to find the best strategies to increase activity with teen followers on social media, and continued exploration of the District of Learning Connected Learning platform and its relation to library programming and activities.</td>

<td>Develop and release a strategic plan that will guide the library’s services and programs.</td>
<td>DCPL is developing a strategic plan that will help to prioritize the services and programs offered to the public in the coming years. The planning process, which commenced in the summer of 2015, will involve broad stakeholder input from staff, partner agencies and organizations, and the community. Input from the plan will help the Library prioritize and enhance core programs and services such as; adult literacy, workforce development and education. The plan will be released in the final quarter of FY16.</td>
